TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR

EIGHT MILLION WOMEN WORK FOR WAGES

Census Reports Show Big Increase in Past Few Years.

MANY DO REAL HARD LABOR

Washington, Oct. 7.—More than 8,000,000 women and girls over 10 years of age, in addition to the great host of housekeepers, are engaged in "gainful occupations," according to volume 4 of the report of the thirteenth census, just published. Women, the report shows, have invaded practically every industry in search of a livelihood, some even resorting to such occupations as deck hands and stevedores and some even becoming coal miners.

Of the 71,580,270 persons in the United States who were 10 years of age or over in 1910, 38,167,836 were reported engaged in "gainful occupations." In other words, about 38,000,000 worked for money.

Of these 30,091,564 were males and 8,075,772 were females. But the reports explain that women who keep house for their husbands and who do not receive wages are not classed as engaged in "gainful occupations."

Thirty-one Blacksmiths

Of the more than 8,000,000 women who earn their own living outside their homes 7,094 are engaged in the extraction of minerals. Of these 405 were coal miner operatives, forty-five worked in quarries and the remainder were engaged in the womanly business of digging copper, gold, silver, lead, zinc, oils and gas.

Thirty one women blacksmiths actually wield the hammer; there are fifteen bricklayers; ten stationary engineers; sixteen "furnace men" and ninety glassblowers. Ninety women work in the sweet-scented atmosphere of the fertilizer factories, and a total of 6,140 labor in the iron and steel industries.

Many in Trades

Much larger numbers, of course, appear in the "women's trade," such as dressmaking and clerical employment. But there are 14,061 compositors, linotypists and typesetters, and textile industries use 16,038 female laborers, 7,081 beamers, wrappers and slashers, 4,892 bobbin "boys," 5,906 carders, combers and lapers, 17,515 drawers, rovers and twisters, 16,216 spinners, 99,484 weavers, 57,068 winders, reelers and spoolers, and 118,972 in other occupations in the textile mills and factories.

Of sewing machine operators in factories, the figures show 281,206. There are 782 women shoemakers and cobblers not in factories; there are 1,293 upholsters.

Favorite Funny Fellows

Those famous funny chaps "Charley Gano and Nicodemus Glynn" are again with Coburn's Greater Minstrels and will be seen at the Temple theatre on Thursday, Oct. 15 with the big all new company in the latest and best in black face comedy, songs, jokes and darky impersonations for which they are both celebrated. There are not two more capable comedians in minstrelsy. Mr. Gano returns after a year's absence as manager of one of the vaudeville minstrel companies in the northern circuits with a brand new line of songs, stories and a screaming farce satire "Pacificating Mexican" which is the best skit he has ever produced, in which the entire company participates. Nicodemus Glynn has firmly established himself as the peer of any black face performer in the past three seasons, and his musical ability has furnished enjoyment and laughter enjoyment for thousands of delighted patrons with Coburn. This season he returns with a big Four Musical Hussar Act, which is one of the features of the new show.

Manager Coburn absolutely guarantees that this is the best and biggest attraction he has ever carried. Everything new, scenery, costumes, and six big vaudeville specialties never before seen with this company. Not once in the past twenty years has he misrepresented his attraction or disappointed his patrons. His performance is one of the positively reliable, clean cut and thoroughly enjoyable features of this season's attractions.

$150,000,000 COTTON LOAN

Nine Southern Bankers Sent by McAdoo to Investigate Wade's Proposal to Raise Funds.

ADVANCES TO BE MADE AT 6c MIDDLING BASIS

A plan evolved by Festus J. Wade, of St. Louis, which contemplates raising a cotton loan fund of $150,000,000 from the country at large to be advanced on bales of cotton, was formally approved yesterday by nine leading Southern bankers in a telegram sent to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo last night. They had been asked by the Secretary to come to St. Louis and report upon the plan.

This action was taken after an all-day conference at the Mercantile Trust Company.

This plan, which was submitted to Secretary McAdoo last week by Mr. Wade and Geo. W. Simmons, treasurer of the Buy-a-Bale Committee of St. Louis, does not involve the purchase of any cotton. The movement is to create a vast fund available for loans upon cotton at not more than 6 cents per pound, middling basis.

This would mean an average loan of $30 per bale, and the fund as contemplated would suffice to finance 5,000,000 bales, or a comfortable margin above the estimated surplus cotton.

Will Start at Once

Steps will be taken instantly to put the idea into execution, since the crisis in the cotton market will be here within the next two weeks.

Secretary McAdoo requested the Southern bankers to report to him on two points; First, whether the plan would meet the situation in the South; and, second, whether they thought it would be feasible.

The telegram to the Secretary follows:

"Hon. W. G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C.: The plan as laid before you and the Federal Reserve Board on Friday last, to endeavor to raise a cotton loan fund of $150,000,000, was today submitted to the undersigned, and, after careful consideration of the subject, the following resolutions unanimously passed:

"It was moved by Mr. E. D. Robertson, of Columbia, S. C., and seconded by Mr. D. N. Fink, of Muskogee, Okla., that the plan outlined by Mr. Festus J. Wade, in general essence, be adopted, and the details worked out later. It is believed the South will subscribe its proportion as suggested and outlined."

The message is signed by the following men, who participated in the conference:

P. M. Harding, president Delta Trust & Banking Co., Vicksburg, Miss.; R. H. Stewart, president City National Bank, Dallas, Tex.; T. O. Vinton, president Bank of Commerce and Trust Co., Memphis, Tenn.; D. N. Fiuk, president Commercial National Bank, Muskogee, Okla.; B. D. Harris, vice president of Southern Texas Commercial National Bank, Houston, Tex.; E. W. Robertson, president National Loan & Exchange Bank, Columbia, S. C.; J. H. Fulton, president Commercial National Bank, New Orleans, La.; C. G. Price, vice president Southern Trust Co., Little Rock, Ark.; J. M. Miller, Jr., vice president First National Bank, Richmond, Va.

The plan proposes to raise the fund by subscriptions from banks and trust companies, manufacturers and mercantile houses, and to distribute it in the cotton growing States and cotton manufacturing centers, among the farmers, merchants, manufacturers and others whose fortunes are bound up with the fate of the cotton crop.

DEAD RAT ON BATTLE GROUND

U. S. Army Officer, Back from France, Tells Woeful Story

SAYS PEACE TALK USELESS

Washington, Oct. 7.—Dead men and horses heaped up by thousands lie putrefying on the battlefields of the Aisne, Colonel Webb C. Hayes, U. S. A., son of former President Hayes, declared today. Hayes, just back from observing the world war, expects soon to give to President Wilson a personal message from the acting burgomaster of Louvain.

"When I left Havre on Sept. 27," he said today, "the allies were fearful that they would not be able to penetrate to the German line through the mass of putrefying men and horses on the battlefields, which unfortunately the combatants seem not to heed about burying. I don't see how they could pass thru these fields. The stench is horrible, and the idea of climbing over the bodies must be revolting even to brave soldiers."

Hayes has been on the firing line: he has visited the sacked City of Louvain as the guest of Germans in an armored car; he has been in Aix-la-Chapelle to see the havoc of war there, and has seen some of the fighting in the historic Aisne struggle.

"It is a sausage grinder," he declared.

"On one side are the allies, apparently willing to sacrifice their last man in defense of France; on the other are the Germans, seemingly prodigal of their millions of men and money and throwing man after man into the war."

Hayes predicted a two year war.

"There can be but one outcome, but it will be a long time ending," he said. "England won't begin to fight really until spring."

"What about the alleged atrocities in Belgium?" he was asked.

"Well, war is hell; that's about the only answer I can give you. The real tragic part of the whole war is Belgium. Its people are wonderful folk—clean, decent, respectable. What this nation should do is to concentrate its efforts to aiding the women and children of Belgium. This help for hospitals is not so much needed, but the fate of these people is really pathetic."

The colonel declared peace talk at this time is useless.

"We must keep hands off at this point," he declared. "We can do no good. We will merely stir up trouble for ourselves."

Asked for a brief description of what he saw along the battle line, Hayes declared:

"The battle front these days is far different from what it used to be. There are few men to be seen, and practically no guns. All are concealed. Shrapnel flies through the air and bursts. That is the scene most of the time. In the hand-to-hand fighting bayonets are used much by the French, while the Turks use knives."

"Shall you go back?" Hayes was asked.

"Does anyone wish to visit a slaughter house a second time?" he replied.

BERNHARDT AND ROSTAND.

Actress and Author Play the Alphonse and Gaston Roles.

A pretty story comes from France of a contest in compliments between Mme. Sarah Bernhardt and Edmond Rostand, the poet in which the Alphonse and Gaston stout is put to shame. Mme. Bernhardt telephoned to a Paris newspaper that she had entered suit against Rostand because a poster of a cinematograph performance of his play "L'Aiglon" had been stuck up right opposite her Paris theater and would hurt her business. Mme. Sarah was most put out by the use of the title "L'Aiglon," which she claims belongs to her so far as concerns the stage.

The brilliant author of "L'Aiglon" seems to have been distressed at the anger which had been aroused against him in the bosom of the "divine Sarah," and he telephoned her:

"I know nothing about the case, but I would rather cut my hand off than engage a lawyer against Mme. Bernhardt. No human force could make me defend myself against her. Whatever she wishes is right, and I grant her all the profits arising from films of my work. I kiss her hand, gracious as a lily."

This tribute from the poet evidently touched Mme. Bernhardt deeply, as it is stated that she promptly wired to the Paris press declaring her purpose to refuse to accept Rostand's moving picture profits, which are estimated at $40,000.

This is an interesting and signal instance of a soft answer turning away wrath.—Columbus Record.

FRANCE MAY TAX DUELS.

One of the New Deputies Has a Brilliant Scheme to Propose.

One of the newly elected Parisian deputies says he intends to propose in the French chamber the imposition of a tax on duels. His argument will be that duels are a form of advertisement and as such are liable to taxation as posters and prospectuses. He suggests that duels shall be divided into three classes—third, second and first, in ascending order of taxable magnitude. For a third class duel, with the ordinary four seconds, a couple of general practitioners and a scratch in the forearm, the tax will be 50 francs. The process-verbaux, or official accounts of the duel, must be written on paper stamped with a six-penny stamp.

For a second class duel, giving a right to decorated seconds—that is, seconds with orders in their buttonholes—hospital doctors and descriptive reporters, the tax will be 100 francs. There will be an additional charge of 20 francs per camera and 60 francs per cinematograph apparatus.

Those who desire a first class duel must be prepared to pay 2,000 francs—$90—to the fisc. But for that they are entitled to have umpires, a jury of honor, a famous swordsman as director of combat and a reconciliation on the field of honor to the accompaniment of a brass band or stringed orchestra. The sanguine deputy estimates that such a tax, loyally imposed and exacted, will bring over £1,000,000 a year to the exchequer.—London Globe.

"Men, see to your arms and lie close. I'm going up to report to the captain."

"Did I call you?" he harshly asked as the corporal came to a halt and saluted. "No, sir," was the reply, "but I thought it best to tell you that I have made out Indians beyond the basin to the north."

"It's all nonsense."

"But there are Indians skulking about, sir," persisted the corporal.

"Go back to your men!" was the silent reply.

When he had reached the troopers he quietly said:

"Men, I have been up to the captain to report that there is a band of at least fifty Indians skulking down this way from Red Bird pass. They have seen us, and they are after us. We've got good cover, and we can stand 'em off for the day."

"But when night comes?" asked one of the men, though without a tremor in his tones.

"Get quietly ready," was the reply.

Meanwhile there was an argument between the captain and the colonel's daughter. He sought to assure her that nothing had been seen and that there was not the slightest danger; but, to his annoyance, she persisted in believing that there must be good grounds for the corporal's report. This annoyance made him delay matters, and nearly half an hour had passed, and it was very much against the grain when he shouted for the soldier to approach and sneeringly added:

"Well, corporal, isn't it about time your Indians showed up?"

"We shall hear from them in ten minutes," was the reply, "but if we mounted now and rode fast we would find the way open," said the corporal, with downcast eyes.

"Back, you impudent vagabond!" thundered the captain with outstretched arms. "I'll break you for this the minute we get back!"

The corporal turned his gaze on the girl for a few fleeting seconds; then his head and shoulders dropped in a helpless way, and he saluted his officer and retired.

Bang, bang, bang, went the carbines of the troopers, and the corporal came running up the hill to seize and drag the officer under shelter and to say to the girl:

"You must crouch down here and remain quiet. They can't get at you till they have killed the last one of us!"

By and by she missed the reports of the carbines, and the sound of foot-steps echoed in her ears.

"Come!" said the corporal as he lifted her up.

"Oh, Robert, and have you beaten them off?" she exclaimed.

"No. My men are all dead, and the Indians will rush us in a minute."

"And we—we?"

He put his arms around her waist and assisted her to the rock, on which were the remains of her breakfast. The steaming, heaving, mysterious lake was thirty feet beneath them.

"Better this than that!" he said as he pointed from the lake to a score of Indians advancing.

"Yes, better this!" she murmured as she took fast hold of him and put up her face to be kissed, and the savages stopped in their advance and shrieked and screamed their disappointment. By and by they advanced and looked down into the lake, but it had no story to tell.

Too Much Grape Juice:
Bryan Switches Drink

Secretary of State Changes to Lemonade
When Unfermented Wine Begins to Pall on Him.

Washington, Secretary of State Bryan has placed a ban on grape juice, the drink he helped to make famous. Finding grape juice at his all functions to which he has been invited, and grape juice in cases, the gift of admiring friends, piling up in cellar and making it way jailor to his table the secretary's stomach rebelled.

This, his friends say, explains why Villa Sorrento limeade, made from fruit picked from the secretary's summer home in Florida, was dedicated to the diplomatic limeade he gave the other day as the new Bryan soft drink.

But the secretary is not looking for contributions of limeade. His grape juice experience demonstrated to his satisfaction that whatever may be its effect in other kinds of drinks a certain mixing of soft drinks is demanded.

As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ill health has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine for their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At druggists, 50c. large box, or by mail. The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

Toned Up Whole System.

"Chamberlain's Tablets have done more for me than I ever dared hope for," writes Mrs. Esther Mae Baker, Spencerport, N. Y. "I used several bottles of these tablets a few months ago. They not only cured me of bilious attack, sick headaches and that tired out feeling, but toned up my whole system." For sale by all dealers.

Orthography of Shakespeare.

Some interesting Shakespearean appear in the London Record. It is well known that in Shakespeare's time orthography was little accounted of and that Shakespeare himself would have considered the question of spelling his name in one way and not another a mere waste of time. It is, however, worth recording how the name struck the Bodleian officials when the first folio was given a place and mark in the library. The entries are as follows and were all written in 1623: Shakespear, Shape-speare, Shakspeare, Shakespeare, Shakspere. The testimony, so far as it goes, is obviously in favor of the form "Shakespeare" and of the present pronunciation of the word.

It Always Does The Work.

"I like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy better than any other," writes R. E. Roberts, Homer City, Pa. "I have taken it off and on for years and it has never failed to give the desired results." For sale by all dealers.

Fish and Lightning.

Sensitivity to lightning has been noted in fishes. In several cases trout and other fishes in tanks and pools have died from the effects of lightning, which, however, struck some distance away.

The "Gentleman Corporal"

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1914, by Associated Literary Press.

They were going to make a ride to the foothills and back—Captain Cline and the colonel's daughter. That meant a gallop of thirty miles.

"Not an Indian has been seen this side of the range for four months," said the captain as he talked over the proposed ride with the colonel. "and the trip is perfectly safe. I will detail an escort from my own company, but it will be only for appearance sake."

"Yes, it will be safe, and May will enjoy the gallop," said the colonel, and no more was said about it.

At sunrise all were ready to set forth.

As the girl stood on the veranda waiting for her horse six of the men of A troop came riding up under command of Corporal Haynes. They halted thirty feet away, and as she looked them over she gave a start of surprise, and a flush overspread her face. Next moment her cheeks went white, and she gasped as if choked for breath. The corporal's hand slowly lifted, and his head was uncovered for an instant, and Private Harkins whispered to Private O'Brien:

"And the corporal isn't a bit easy in his mind," added the other.

It all took place in a minute, and then Captain Cline rode up, followed by the girl's horse.

The two riders went galloping away, followed at a distance of 100 yards by the escort. Now and then the pace was slackened down a bit to breathe the horses, but no halt was made until the Devil's basin was reached. The escort halted forty yards from the riders, and the men sat about on the rocks. Meanwhile Corporal Haynes climbed to the top of a great bowlder and surveyed the country about with his keen eyes. It was three-quarters of an hour before he came down and said:

"Men, see to your arms and lie close. I'm going up to report to the captain."

Why Wait a Day Longer

Why not come here today for your new suit and overcoat? Each day's delay means fewer patterns in YOUR size, for stocks are now at their highest and in all our long years of experience we have never had such complete displays of everything that men, young men and boys wear.

INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

SAN FRANCISCO

To be Given the Most Popular Teacher in Hopkins County

WHO WILL BE THE LUCKY TEACHER TO WIN THIS WONDERFUL VACATION NEXT YEAR?

The Bee has completed arrangements to send the most popular teacher on a four weeks' trip to the two big expositions in California next year, the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Diego. The Bee realizes that a trip of this kind will benefit our teachers greatly because 1915 will be a historic year, a red letter year not only in American History, but in the history of the world. An event of a lifetime—1915—marks the completion of the greatest achievement of man in the history of the world—the Panama Canal. The completion of this achievement will be celebrated in San Francisco by the greatest exposition the world has ever seen: The Panama-Pacific International Exposition, in which the countries of the world will participate on an unprecedented scale.

The free trip offered will be educational and instructive as well as entertaining. The routes traversed to the Expositions and return will be through the "Fairyland of the West"—a magnificent trip by rail across the continent, through scenic New Mexico and Arizona where are found Indian pueblos, petrified forests, snow-capped mountain peaks and titanic chasms. The Grand Canyon of Arizona is the world's most sublime scenic wonder, miles wide, a mile deep and painted in all the colors of the rainbow; the old missions in California, with their sandals priests and Spanish customs; the Panama-California Exposition at San Diego; Los Angeles with its many attractive sights and Orange Groves; then the great San Joaquin Valley to San Francisco and the Exposition.

On the way back via Nevada, the Great Salt Lake and the Land of Mormons, Pike's Peak, and the mountains of picturesque Colorado with their awe-inspiring grandeur. The trip of a lifetime, From an educational standpoint, the trip is truly a wonderful one.

THE PLAN

Here is the plan the Bee has prepared for sending the most popular teacher on this four weeks' vacation. Beginning in this issue the Bee will publish nomination coupons for our readers to use in nominating their favorite teachers. Cut out these coupons, fill in the name of the teacher you would like to have sent on this big trip. The nominations will be held open for three weeks. The names of the nominees will be published each week.

Each subscriber to the Special Clubbing Combination Offer will be entitled to Mileage Stamps. Each stamp represents one mile of the journey to San Francisco. Ten Mileage Stamps will be given with each subscription, these in turn can be given to your favorite teacher, who will be provided with an International Mileage Book and the teacher who succeeds in getting the largest number of the Mileage Stamps in her book by the close of the contest will be awarded the Free Trip to the Exposition.

To make it easy to get enough mileage stamps to win this great vacation trip, the Bee has arranged with four of the best and most widely read magazines, Woman's World, Household, People's Popular Monthly and Farm Life. We will offer a year's subscription to all four magazines, together with one year to the Bee, at the special price of $1.25 for all five. Each order entitles the subscribers to ten Mileage Stamps.

Send the name of the teacher you have picked out to go on this vacation, then help her to earn the trip by having your friends subscribe for this big bargain and get as many Mileage Stamps as possible. Scholars, get busy and secure new subscribers for this remarkable combination clubbing offer. Help send your teacher to the Exposition.

RULES OF CONTEST

Any school teacher in Hopkins county can be nominated. Each issue will contain nomination blanks. Fill in the name of your favorite and mail or leave the nomination blank at our office. Every subscription to the Special Combination Clubbing offer will entitle the subscriber to Ten Mileage Stamps to give to his favorite teacher. Mileage will be given for combination orders only; no mileage will be allowed for a separate subscription for any one of the five publications in the combination. Subscription blanks will be furnished to the contestants and their friends at this office.

There are no restrictions as to territory in securing combination orders and mileage. The date of the close of the contest will be announced later. Ample time will be given, as the Exposition does not open until February, 1915.

The teacher having the greatest number of stamps in her mileage book will be declared the winner. For any additional information address, Free Trip Exposition Bureau, 22 Earlington, Ky.

Nominate your favorite teacher on this blank, then mail or leave at Bee Office.

I desire to have you place the name of _____ Teacher of _____ School, as a candidate in the School Teachers' Popularity Contest for the free trip to the International Panama-Pacific Exposition AT SAN FRANCISCO

Important to all Women

Readers of This Paper
Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaint often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in back, bearing down, feelings headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Klimmer's Swamp-Root by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value should be a blessing to thousands of nervous over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Klimmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottle at all drug stores.

Nietzsche and the Invalid.

An invalid lady who often met Nietzsche found him the gentlest, kindest and most sympathetic of men. He implored her with tears in his eyes not to read his books.

Such was his knowledge of women that he was thunderstruck to find shortly afterward that the lady at once proceeded to read them all. He was further stupefied by the discovery that, having read them, she was utterly unmoved by the philosopher's unanswerable demonstrations that feeble persons like herself had no right to live and that women were distinguished by this, that and the other objectionable attribute. It must have been a blow to him.—London News.

What Would You Do?

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Pern, Ind., says "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by all dealers.

ONLY ONE

The Record in Earlington in a Unique One.

If the reader had a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for an effective kidney medicine, better depend on the remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills have given great satisfaction in such cases. Earlington citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

Mrs. Joseph Blondin, Earlington, Ky., says: "One of my family suffered from a very annoying case of kidney complaint for years. He took medicines and doctoring faithfully, but could get no relief. His back pained constantly, and the kidney secretions were unnatural.

Doan's Kidney Pills had been highly recommended and he finally procured a supply at the St. Bernard Mining Co. Incorporated. The results of their use were all that could have been desired. Every symptom of kidney trouble left in a short time."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't slavishly ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Blondin recommends. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Why Not Publish It

When you want a fact to become generally known, the right way is to publish it. Mrs. Joseph Kallana, Peru, Ind., was troubled with belching, sour stomach and frequent headaches. She writes, "I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me. They have helped my digestion and regulated my bowels. Since using them I have been entirely well." For sale by all dealers.
